

EDUCATIONAL.

The biennial report of the President of the Board of Education (Hon. C. R. Bishop) to the Legislative Assembly of 1882, is an exhaustive statement of the transactions of the Board throughout the Kingdom, during the past two years, making a pamphlet of some forty-one printed pages. The careful reader of this report will gather facts enough to prove that the Government educational system of these Islands is thorough, progressive and well looked after. The Standing Committee on Education of the Assembly have also made a pretty lengthy report based on that of the President of the Board, in which they make some noteworthy remarks and suggestions. There are 201 schools altogether in the Islands, 134 of which are termed Government Common Schools and which are taught in the Hawaiian language only. Then there are 26 Government Select Schools and 41 Independent Schools, which are taught in English. The committee complain with some degree of asperity that the teachers in the common or purely Hawaiian schools, are, almost without exception, poorly qualified for their positions, and that those schools are now far below the standard of proficiency in all respects to which they had generally obtained in past years. The committee attribute this to the indolence and apathy of the native teachers. But it is apparent that they have not gone deep enough for the cause of this evident decadence of the native Hawaiian schools. It will be found to lie in the fact that there are now no high schools in the country for the training of young Hawaiians for the teacher's profession. Formerly Lahainaluna was the seminary from which graduated the teachers of the common schools, but for the past four years Lahainaluna Seminary has been carried on in the English language, to the utter exclusion of the Hawaiian. From the Hilo Boys' Boarding School also in former years came some of the really excellent teachers for which the common schools were noted, but the Hawaiian language has been banished from the Hilo School also. So that there are absolutely no schools extant in the country where a young Hawaiian can be prepared for the vocation of a teacher in his own language.

This should not be. We do not suppose for a moment that the Educational authorities contemplate any abandonment of the native language as a medium of instruction for the masses, however much they may favor the popular desire for an increase of English schools wherever practicable. The mother tongue of a nation cannot be legislated nor yet educated out of existence, so long as there remains even a handful of that nation. The Hawaiian, more or less mixed with English, will continue to be spoken, written and read long after the pure blood Hawaiian people are reduced to a handful. And while we have between three and four thousand native children in the Government schools, it will be but justice to them to devise some means for preparing competent teachers in the Hawaiian language.

LEGISLATIVE.

Thursday, July 20.—Mr. Bishop read first time a bill to amend the law of 1880 respecting corporations incorporated in foreign countries.

Mr. Palohau read first time a bill to amend Section 9 of Chapter 79 of the Penal Code, in respect to the fees of agents to grant marriage licenses, increasing the same from 25 cents to one dollar for every license issued.

Mr. Mahoe offered a resolution to the effect that the Chaplain of the Assembly, the Rev. M. Kuana, being in feeble health, is hereby excused from further attendance on the House, and that some member be deputized to offer the morning prayers. After some discussion, the resolution was indefinitely postponed.

The House then proceeded to the order of the day, which was Mr. Bishop's bill to define the limits within which none but fire-proof buildings may be erected in the city of Honolulu. In Committee of the whole, Mr. Cleghorn in the Chair.

The third section was, on motion of the introducer of the bill, stricken out.

A long discussion ensued on section 4, which, containing the gist of the bill was strongly opposed by many of the representatives, as calculated to be oppressive in its operation upon people of small means.

A motion by Mr. Palohau to strike out, was negatived by the following close vote:

Ayes: Messrs. Kapena, Keau, Lahilahi, Mahoe, Kaluhi, Kaulukou, Kalua, Nakookoo, Kamakele, Gardner, Nawahi, Haupū, Kauwila, Pili-pō, Aiwōhi, Kaunamano, Kauai, Palohau, Kaukau.—19.

Noes: Messrs. Gibson, Kaai, Bush, Preston, Bishop, Dominis, Parker, Wilder, Isenberg, Rhodes, Mott Smith, Judd, Widemann, Kanoa, Lilikalani, Pahia, Aholo, Kahane, Nahinu, Rice.—20.

After recess the House met at 2 p.m. and resumed consideration of the fire-proof limits bill. Section 4, with some slight amendments, was passed. Section 5, the same, when the committee rose and reported the bill for a third reading on Saturday.

The bill to convey a certain Crown Land to Claus Spreckels, came up on its third reading. The Attorney-General moved that it do now pass. Mr. Nawahi moved its indefinite postponement, and supported his motion by a most vigorous speech. The ayes and noes being called for, Mr. Nawahi's motion was lost, noes 25, ayes 9, and the bill passed finally.

The bill to amend the masters and servants law passed a final reading.

The bill to amend section 267 of the Civil Code, respecting pay of constables, passed a final reading.

The bill to amend the law of naturalization of foreigners, passed a second reading and was ordered for a third reading on Saturday.

The bill to fix the number of representatives of the people, passed a second reading and was ordered for a third reading on Saturday. Adjourned.

1381 bags sugar, 1196 bags rice, and 40 cords of wood came to hand since yesterday morning.

The Regular Session of Polynesian Encampment takes place this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The religious meeting at Kaimakapili last evening was a crowded one, a great many foreigners being present. Mr. Hallenbeck preached impressively from the words addressed to man by the Almighty after the fall: "Adam, where art thou?" To-night it will be remembered, is the last of this series of revival meetings in Honolulu, and in order to get a seat one must go early.

Arabi Pasha.

He is not an Arab, as is generally supposed, but an Egyptian of the purest type, strongly resembling in his lineaments those shown by the pictures found on the walls of the ancient tombs. He is the son of a Shiekh, and claims to be a lineal descendant of the Prophet through his daughter Fatima. He was born in 1839, and after studying for a time at the El Azhar University entered the military school in Cairo, which he left after four years of study as a Lieutenant. He first came into public notice when charges were preferred against him in Ismail Pasha's time, which led to his discharge from the army. After a long investigation he was restored and was subsequently elevated to the rank of Colonel. He served in Abyssinia with distinction, but was more remarkable for his great personal influence over men than his military skill. He is well read not only in Arabic but in Turkish and English literature, is of a religious temperament, mild in his disposition, and humane. In his domestic relations he belongs to the new school of Mohammedans, and has but one wife, with whom he lives very affectionately.

ERIE, (Pa.) July 2d.—A strange crank passed through here yesterday, who professed to be on a divine mission to Washington, to execute the command of God by avenging Guiteau's murder, as he terms it. He resembles Guiteau in personal appearance, and professes to be a distant relative. He said he had never taken much stock in Guiteau until the night before he was hanged, when God appeared to him in a vision, and commanded him to go to Washington to avenge Guiteau's murder. As to the manner in which this is to be effected he is in doubt, as God promised to reveal it to him upon his arrival in Washington. He refuses to tell his name, or where he came from, but he had a ticket from Chicago to New York. He uttered terrible threats against Arthur and others.

The London Standard says that the dominant influences of the day are uniformly hostile to copious, and not too friendly to moderate drinking. There are few English refreshment rooms in places of public resort where milk is not largely in demand. The amount of wine drunk at dinner parties is much smaller than of yore. Many drink none, and others largely dilute it. This arises from the action of the teetotal societies, whose sobering influences have spread upward.

If you have an idea that the water you drink is unhealthful from the germs of disease it contains, boil it. That process will destroy all trace of insectorial life. The filter will not do this. Boiled water well cooled is the safest and best drink in the world.

At the commencement exercises at Harvard College on the 28th ult., President Eliot announced that the bequests for the year were nearly $400,000. Among those present was the oldest living graduate, William Tomas, of Plymouth, Mass., of the class of 1807.
